DeCamp Seeks to Drop Service to Livingston

In a move that recalled similar incidents in past years, DeCamp Bus Lines has filed a petition with the Department of Transportation for permission to abandon its service on the 145 and 146 lines through Livingston. The 22 route in Caldwell is also involved in the action by DeCamp.

The bus company has sought to drop service between Newark and Morristown, the 145-146 lines, for many years. In June of 1980 the company tried to make a unilateral declaration that service would be abandoned, but state agencies ruled that it could not do so. At that time the company's lease on its garage in Clifton was terminated, but DeCamp located another garage facility on Greenwood Avenue in Montclair and continued its operations.

No specific reasons for wanting to abandon service at this time have been cited by DeCamp. Some riders of the line have reported that they believe the company will use its equipment to carry charter passengers to Atlantic City casinos. DeCamp officials, in speaking with the Tribune on Tuesday afternoon, declined any comment.

Hearing August 5

At Monday night's meeting of the Township Council, mayor John P. Collins said that a public hearing is to be held in Morristown on Thursday, August 5, to examine the request for cancellation of service. Mayor Collins said that he will attend that hearing to speak in opposition to the petition.

The mayor was joined by Council member Doris L. Beck in urging any residents who are concerned with the loss of service to attend the hearing. The record of the public hearing in Morristown will be forwarded to the proceedings that are to begin in Newark on August 9 in which the petition will be evaluated by the state.

The Morristown meeting will be held at the Petit Jurors Assembly Room in the Morris County Court House, located on Washington Street, starting at 8 p.m. Further information on the hearing is available from the Office of Regulatory Affairs of the state Department of Transportation, Suite 505, Gateway I, Newark.

In public notices concerning this hearing, DeCamp has indicated that the company has "made application to the Department of Transportation of the State of New Jersey for discontinuance of all intrastate charter and regular route service on 22 Caldwell-Jersey City Route and 145-146 Morristown-Livingston Route."

Hearings in Newark

Township attorney Barry H. Evenchick received a letter this week from deputy attorney general Robert H. Stoloff of the Public Transportation Section, describing the sequence of events after the Morristown public hearing.

Stoloff indicated that there "will be a week of hearings in this matter, commencing at 9 a.m. August 9 at the Office of Administrative Law in Newark."

In preparation for the hearings, a pre-hearing conference was held on Thursday, June 24. Administrative Law Judge Sybil R. Moses, in a written report of that conference, indicated that it had been "held on short notice" to settle procedural matters.

Among these are the mechanical matters of how to conduct the hearings, as well as a statement of the issues to be determined. The latter, Judge Moses' report states, includes "whether DeCamp should be authorized to discontinue its service."

Blood Drive Set At Beth Shalom

The Essex County Blood Bank will conduct a blood donor drive on Thursday, July 22, from 3 to 7 p.m. at Temple Beth Shalom, 193 East Mt. Pleasant Avenue.

Anyone wishing to donate blood may stop by during the above hours without an appointment.

Livingston High Key Club Wins International Honors

For the fifth consecutive year the Livingston High School Key Club has been recognized as one of the top three clubs in the world by Key Club International. The club received this honor at the annual Key Club International Convention held in Chicago this past week.

In addition to receiving the second place achievement award for overall service to the community, the Livingston Club was also given the third place trophy for its scrapbook entry. Livingston is the only New Jersey Key Club ever to have been recognized for its scrapbook on the international level.

The only Livingston delegate at the Convention was Debbie Chevon, New Jersey District lieutenant governor and the Livingston club's single service chairman. Chevon attended the 39th International Convention along with 2,500 other Key Clubbers from nine countries. She was awarded first place in the International Impromptu Essay contest for her 350 word essay on the assigned topic, "How can volunteerism promote the objectives of Key Club International?"

Besides honoring outstanding clubs and members, the annual convention is held to elect new international officers and to unveil the new international theme. Theme for 1982-1983 will be "Strengthen from Within."

The second place achievement ranking which the club received was based on a comprehensive report of the year's activities. The report was prepared by immediate past president Gary Survis and immediate past secretary Jackie Veit. The scrapbook award was given on the basis of content and artistic merit, and must of the credit for its success was given to scrapbook chairman Laurie Mayerson.

SIGN OF THE TIMES: A sign indicating the municipal recycling center on West Mt. Pleasant Avenue was installed this week as a means of encouraging residents to recycle more than the present three per cent of the township's glass. Shown in front of the VFW Hall, where newspapers are also accepted for recycling seven days a week, are Stan Ost, officers Sue Fershing and Paul Olsen of Livingston Reclamation, and president Marc Greenberg of the Key Club, which provides personnel to run the center every Saturday.

Township Hires Consultant On Senior Citizens' Housing

Hoping to get some action on the question of housing for senior citizens, the Township Council voted unanimously on Monday night to engage the services of James P. Sweeney Associates of Cranford as a consultant. Mayor John P. Collins said that the Sweeney firm has an excellent reputation in the field of senior citizens' housing, and should be able to advise the Council on the practicality of a local project.

Councilman Stephen A. Gelfner, in moving the resolution, recalled that in September of 1980 the Council took formal action to endorse the concept of special housing for senior citizens. Even then, nearly two years ago, it had been five years since the possibility had first been given serious consideration.

In 1977, during the review of the township's Master Plan, proposals for senior citizens' housing were given extensive examination. Potential sites were identified and the possibilities for development were considered. After lengthy public hearings, however, the Planning Board removed any references to housing for senior citizens from its final report to the Township Council.

Proponents of special housing had cited the inability of older residents to remain in Livingston in large homes for reasons of maintenance and finance. Detractors had said in the hearings that multi-family housing could not legally be limited to senior citizens, and would soon be open to the general public to the great detriment of the township; others argued that it was not economically realistic for the township or a specially formed group to build housing for seniors.

Consideration Revived
In its endorsement in 1980, the Township Council stated that since the Master Plan had been revised, Council members "have been meeting with a representative committee of the Livingston Clergy Association to discuss senior citizen housing. In addition, our governing body has been evaluating and studying this area of concern, including discussions with persons knowledgeable in this field."

As a result of that investigation, the Council reported in 1980, "the Township Council has reached the conclusion that senior citizen housing is an idea and a need whose time has come. We believe we need to move in the direction of meeting this need."

At the Council's meeting on Monday night, Gelfner noted that financial conditions for the construction of senior citizens' housing have changed greatly, and the complexities of securing support from various governmental offices have increased to the point where it has become a job for a specialist.

For these reasons, Gelfner said, the Council is going ahead with engaging just such a specialist, the Sweeney firm, to investigate the possibilities of senior citizens' housing in Livingston.

Nuclear Freeze Resolution Is Dropped by Town Council

A resolution supporting the state's non-binding referendum on a nuclear arms freeze failed to receive the support of the Township Council at its meeting on Monday night. The resolution was vigorously opposed by many residents and representatives of local organizations who addressed the Council during the meeting.

The Council had proposed a resolution supporting the state referendum in November, and urging "all our residents to vote in favor" of the ballot question. That question asks whether the resolution "superfluous and dangerous," and urged support for the President in defending the United States from aggression.

The state referendum also urges the federal government to "propose to the government of the Soviet Union that both countries immediately agree to a mutual, verifiable halt of all further testing, production and deployment of nuclear warheads, missiles and delivery systems as a first step toward mutual, balanced reductions, and to apply the money saved to human needs and tax reductions."

Speakers Opposed

The Council, in an unusual move, opened the meeting for public discussion after introducing the resolution. Half a dozen people addressed the Council in strong opposition to the resolution.

Judge Advocate Dante J. Mercurio of Livingston Post

201, American Legion, read a prepared statement on behalf of the Post membership. He said that the consideration by the Township Council of international policy matters is "irrelevant to our real community problems." For the Council to get involved in such "naive actions" as the proposed resolution, he said, can only aid the Soviet Union in its relentless push for world domination.

Mercurio said that actions of this kind could only misinform our potential adversaries as to our real values. He called the resolution "superfluous and dangerous," and urged support for the President in defending the United States from aggression.

Dean Cheng of 3 Tanger Drive noted that war is considered an instrument of foreign policy by Soviet doctrine. The Soviet economy, he said, is based on military production, and that country literally could not afford peace. The Soviet Union has little to fear from nuclear war, Cheng said, with even the speculated loss of ten million residents amounting to only half of the country's losses in World War II.

Cheng urged the Council to defeat the proposed resolution on a nuclear freeze, saying that the United States cannot lead the free world if it cannot defend itself. As a nation, Cheng said, we must have the courage to face this challenge to our own freedom. Cheng was applauded by the large audience in the Council meeting room.

Another speaker, Irving Grossman, representing Jewish War Veterans Post 740 of Livingston, said that no one favors nuclear war. The instruments of such a war exist, he said, and cannot be "uninvented," so we must learn to live with them. Grossman was supported by several other speakers when he said that he could not trust the Soviet Union or the nuclear freeze concept, and felt that the Township Council has no business undermining the President of the United States in matters of foreign policy.

The latter point was brought up by Council member Stephen A. Gelfner when the matter was brought to a vote. Gelfner said that he did not feel it was the Council's job to get involved in international policy matters, and announced that he would vote in opposition.

Council member Dominick A. Crincoli said that he felt it was important to keep channels of communication with the Soviet Union open in the search for peace. Councilwoman Doris L. Beck cited the wording of the state referendum, saying that she did not think it would damage the country's stature if it were approved. Beck said that the referendum is important as a means of letting the

Township To Sell Bonds For Mine Hill Water Tank

Following an extended period of hearings and investigation, the Township Council introduced an ordinance on Monday evening to authorize a bond issue of $380,000 for a new high-service water tank on Mine Hill. The proposal has been vigorously ly opposed by residents of the Edgemere Road area, some of whom were present at the Council meeting on Monday evening.

The ordinance did not receive unanimous approval from the Council members. Councilman Dominick A. Crincoli, recalling that the matter had been under consideration for well over a year, said that he had given careful consideration to an alternate proposal which had been presented by Clifford Johnson, an engineer retained by the neighbors' group. Johnson had suggested that instead of an elevated water tank the township consider a ground-level tank and high pressure pumps to force the water into the high-service system.

Such a system, Johnson had testified in earlier hearings, would meet the needs of the high-service water customers in the Mine Hill area. They are now served by a connection with the high-service tank on Fawn Drive which Council members, neighbors and consultants alike agreed was inadequate.

A pumping system, Johnson said, would save the township a substantial amount of money while meeting the need for better water service and fire protection.

Crincoli said that he concurred with the engineer's recommendation, and would therefore vote against the bond ordinance. Another Council member, John H. Grady, was absent on Monday night, and the remaining three members voted in favor of the bond ordinance, thereby approving it on first reading.

There was no occasion for public comment on the ordinance on Monday night. A public hearing is scheduled for August 2, at which time remarks from the public will be solicited. A similar ordinance had been introduced by the Council in March of 1980, but in the face of strong opposition from residents of the Edgemere Road area the proposal was defeated. It was that defeat, and the subsequent referral of the question to a consulting engineering firm for re-evaluation, that led to the present course of action.

Although there were only three affirmative votes for the introduction of the ordinance, it will require four affirmative votes after the public hearing to give the bonding law final approval.

More Trespassers Heard in Court

As part of the continuing attempt to keep trespassers off the Commonwealth Water Company property at the end of Baker Road, charges of trespassing were pressed against three additional men during the July 8 session of Livingston Municipal Court.

Judge Martin J. Brenner sentenced John Scott of Stanhope, David Berend of Belleville and Warren Wachter of Landing each to perform one week's community service

Young Violinists to Perform At Livingston Mall Wednesday

Two young Livingston residents, Judy Freud and David Kim, will be violin soloists with the New Jersey Pops Orchestra, conducted by another Livingston resident, Michael J. Buglio, in a concert on Wednesday evening at Livingston Mall. The concert on July 21 is part of a month-long series presented by Buglio at the local shopping center, sponsored by the Livingston Mall Merchants' Association.

Buglio will conduct the New Jersey Pops Orchestra in the first portion of the concert at 8:30 p.m. The orchestra will offer the Wedding March from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Leroy Anderson's "Fiddle Faddle," and other selections.

At 9:30 the second portion of the concert will begin, offering music by Loewe, Sousa, Diamond and Gold, and a "good old days" sing-along with audience participation.

The two violinists will perform the Bach Double Violin Concerto in D Minor, a work in the concerto grosso form which is often compared with the more familiar Brandenburg Concertos.

Judy Freud will enter the ninth grade at Mt. Pleasant Junior High School in the fall. She studies in the pre-college certificate program at the Mannes Conservatory of Music in New York under Nanette Levi. She also plays in the New Jersey Youth Symphony, which will tour Belgium next spring.

David Kim will enter his senior year at Livingston High School in September. He studies under Dr. Samuel Applebaum, and has been selected as concertmaster of the Townwide Orchestra. He has been named to the All-State Orchestra for two consecutive years, and to the North Regional High School Orchestra for the past three

To Prohibit Parking On Blackstone Drive

Acting at the request of area residents, the Township Council introduced an ordinance on Monday night to prohibit parking on a section of Blackstone Drive. Mayor John P. Collins said that the Council had received complaints from neighbors, who said that cars were evidently using their street as a park-like parking lot, causing a safety problem at the Route 10 intersection.

Looking into the complaints, Collins said, the Council found that they were justified. As a result the new parking law was prepared.

The law introduced on Monday evening will bar parking on the west side of Blackstone Drive, in the area between West Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Stone-wall Drive. The no-parking ordinance was approved without dissent on first reading.

One Home Entered

Only one burglary was reported to Livingston police this week.

On Friday, July 9, Robert Kaufhold of 54 West Hobart Gap Road reported that, sometime during an absence of several days, his home had been entered by burglars. The intruders had entered through a rear cellar window and jewelry and silverware is reported missing.

Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

At the Township Council meeting on Monday evening, councilman Dominick Crincoli noted that burglaries were up slightly in June, from 14 last year to 17 this year. Overall, however, burglaries in the first half of the year were down by 77 from the 1981 count.

Hospital Using Electromagnets To Promote Bone Regeneration

Physicians at Saint Barnabas Medical Center are using a non-surgical technique with electro-magnets to help re-connect broken bones. The system is inexpensive and painless, and appears to show great promise in the care of fractures that do not mend themselves spontaneously.

Because bone is one of the few tissues in the human body that can regenerate itself, recovery from breaks is usually uneventful once the fractured bone has been realigned. However, on occasion, bone formation is slow or insufficient. Then, fibrocartilage and fibrous tissue form in the gap of the fracture site, creating a barrier to further healing. Up until recently, this has meant additional surgery, but not necessarily success in fusing the fracture. In cases of repeated failure, amputation seemed the only recourse.

Now, there is a new, highly successful, non-invasive procedure wherein electro-magnetic coils are applied externally over the patient's plaster cast. Strapped over the non-union area with a positioning block, the coils generate an electromagnetic field which is switched on and off with carefully controlled pulse, amplitude, duration and repetition rate. The technique is being practiced by members of the Orthopaedic Service at Saint Barnabas Medical Center.

Dr. Herman Lohman, Section Chief of Orthopaedics, explains X-rays. He then outfits his patient with a rented Bi-Osteogen System, a neat little box no bigger than a tabletop radio. It is, in essence, a pulse generator with an output of approximately ten volts which drives two elliptical coils placed on each side of the cast. The output of the pulse generator and the coils are adapted to the individual patient according to the size and location of the broken bone. Carefully selected electromagnetic signals change enzyme activities, induce mineralization and trigger vascular penetration, thus dissolving the blocking tissues of the non-union gap and speeding bone formation. Dr. Lohman recommends that his patients use the system for 12-16 hours a day, and suggests that they might wish to use it as much as possible during sleeping. There is no discomfort or sensation during the treatment.

"Key to the success of the technique is patient cooperation," states Dr. Lohman, "not only in following a 12-16 hour a day treatment pattern but in assiduously avoiding weight-bearing status until the healing has begun." X-rays are taken monthly to judge the progress of the repair, and weight-bearing exercises are taken gradually introduced. The average treatment time is three to four months.

Have Second Child

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Busch of Livingston have announced the birth of their second child. Robert William Busch was born on July 9 in Saint Barnabas Medical Center weighing ten pounds, ten ounces. The little boy joins a five year old sister, Georgeann.

Mr. and Mrs. George Calderone of Livingston are the maternal grandparents and Anna Giampontone of New York is the maternal great grandmother. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Busch of Roselle.

Township Approves Agreement For Installing Bus Shelters

At its meeting on Monday night the Township Council voted to approve an agreement with New Jersey Transit for the erection of eight bus shelters in Livingston. The action is the latest step in a legal process that has lasted nearly a year.

The request for the bus shelters came from the township's Transportation Council following a meeting last August 25. At that time the Transportation Council's chairman, Alan Davenport, reported that priorities had been set for a total of nine bus shelters. Eight of these were adopted by the county Department of Planning and Economic Development, eliminating one that had been proposed by Davenport's group at East Northfield and Old Short Hills Roads.

The action taken this week by the Township Council authorizes a formal agreement with New Jersey Transit, with the county acting as a co-sponsor for the action in regard to the three locations that will be on Mt. Pleasant Avenue, a state highway.

The locations, which had been recommended by the township's Transportation Council, are as follows:

- South Livingston Avenue and West Cedar Street.
- South Livingston Avenue and Belmont Drive.
- South Livingston Avenue and Mt. Pleasant Avenue, at two locations, on the southwest and southeast corners.
- South Livingston Avenue and East Northfield Road.
- West Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Hillside Avenue.
- West Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Walnut Street.
- East Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Broadlawn Drive.

Township manager Robert H. Harp, in a statement to the Township Council, noted that the bus shelters are a mixed blessing.

While the shelters will provide some comfort for bus users, Harp said that he was concerned with the fact that higher levels of government are transferring their responsibilities onto the township level. While the state will provide the bus shelters, once they are set up the problems of maintenance and liability will be left to the township.

Harp emphasized that the bus shelter program does not provide any funds for maintenance, leaving the township to take care of this problem at its own expense.

Several members of the Township Council also expressed concern that the application of DeCamp Bus Lines for discontinuance of its 145 and 146 lines through Livingston would have an effect on the need for bus shelters. While there are other bus lines operating through the township, the DeCamp lines carry a large share of the bus traffic.

Charge Two With Sexual Assault

Charges of aggravated sexual assault against two men, Steven O'Neill of 43 West Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Steven Russo of Roseland, have been referred to the Essex County Prosecutor's office for further action.

The two were arrested as the result of a complaint by a Caldwell woman who had attended a party in Livingston on Sunday afternoon, July 11. The Caldwell resident claimed that the pair, who were also guests at the party, had tied her down before committing the assault.

The men appeared in Livingston Municipal Court on Monday, where Judge Martin Brenner explained that the charges are too serious to fall under the jurisdiction of a municipal court, and referred the cases to the prosecutor's office for possible action by the Grand Jury.

NO RIGHT TURN from South Livingston Avenue into East Harrison Place went into effect this week when this sign was erected by Essex County. Police have been busy during rush hours with large numbers of drivers who are accustomed to using East Harrison Place as a short-cut around Northfield Center, and have begun enforcement.

STOPPED BY POLICE on East Harrison Place, drivers are told of the new No Right Turn regulation. Initially, police issued warnings to drivers who ignored the new sign; after the introductory period strict enforcement was begun. In the four or five minutes that the Tribune photographer was on the scene Friday more than a dozen cars made the illegal turn. Olympus Photos

Jose Galinda recovers from surgery received at Saint Barnabas Medical Center through a volunteer program called Heal the Children. Looking on is Jose's host parent, Pat Klug of Oak Ridge, formerly a nurse at Saint Barnabas.

Saint Barnabas Medical Center Aids Young Boy from Guatemala

Nine-year old Jose Galinda sang on his way to the operating room at Saint Barnabas Medical Center. He was going there to have his leg amputated. When the hospital in Guatemala where Jose was being treated for a severe infection was bombed, he had no idea he'd soon be receiving free surgery and medical care at Saint Barnabas, organized through the efforts of a unique volunteer organization called Heal the Children.

Headquartered in Spokane, Washington, Heal the Children is a national, nonprofit, totally volunteer organization which arranges medical care for children who cannot obtain it in their own countries. The group locates doctors and hospitals in the United States that agree to volunteer their services, provides transportation through contributions, and finds sponsorship families for children in the locales where they are being treated. By the end of 1980, after a year and a half of operation, 75 children from four foreign countries had been helped in over 25 hospitals in 11 states, constituting an estimated $500,000 in free medical care.

Goes to Clinic

Jose's story begins in a Canadian-sponsored Guatemalan clinic called Casa Canada, where he was taken by a rescue team after an attack on the hospital where he was receiving treatment. The clinic referred Jose to Heal the Children and, through the intervention of Mrs. Shirley Weil, director of the Social Service Department at Saint Barnabas Medical Center, the hospital agreed to sponsor the child.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klug of Oak Ridge answered a newspaper ad about Heal the Children's need for host families and agreed to sponsor Jose and take him into their home after discharge from the hospital, until he could be returned to his home in Guatemala. Heal the Children arranged for Jose's flight to the United States, but the funds available for transport only brought him as far as Philadelphia. The problem of bringing him to Saint Barnabas was solved by another volunteer effort, that of an on-duty private pilot who agreed to bring Jose quickly to his destination.

Must Amputate

Jose's infectious smile and fearlessness led a team of specialists at Saint Barnabas, headed by Dennis Filippone, M.D., to rally around him in search of a diagnosis. "I was called at home the night Jose arrived and told to come in because he was in very bad shape," said Dr. Filippone. "We had no information about his previous treatment but were told he had scleroderma, a hardening and contraction of the body's connective tissues. After considerable testing, we were able to rule out scleroderma as the root cause of his infection. Many of our specialists assisted in examining him and we all agreed on the need to amputate his leg quickly to prevent infection from spreading."

The team effort continued. Pedro Gutierrez, M.D., a Spanish-speaking surgery resident at Saint Barnabas, was on call at the hospital when Jose arrived and stayed with him each day to translate for the non-English speaking boy. Fred Jacobs, M.D., medical director of Respiratory Care, used his own two-way radio to reach Jose's family in Guatemala and Dr. Gutierrez later called the parents by telephone at his own expense to explain the need to amputate Jose's leg and to let Jose speak with his family.

Dr. Filippone said of the special attention given Jose, "This is not our gift to Guatemala. This is Guatemala's gift to the United States. Jose is here to show us something about goodness." Dr. Gutierrez added, "We got everyone to do more than was expected. We have so many people behind him, it's incredible. He's a very tough little guy."

Jose is now receiving therapy to learn to walk with the aid of crutches. Soon he will receive an artificial limb through the generosity of Kessler Institute of Rehabilitation. His host parents, the Klugs, with a seven-month child of their own, have been with Jose each day and will take care of him in the months ahead until he is able to return to Guatemala.

What made the Klugs agree to help Jose? They explained, "We've been so lucky and had such good lives ourselves. There are so many people who don't have that chance. We think we have enough to share."

Jose's story is one of many inspired by the efforts of Heal the Children, begun in 1979 when a small group of parents with foreign born children became aware of Guatemalan children in need of specialized medical care not available in Central America. Mrs. Evelyn Dudziec of the New Jersey Heal the Children who coordinated Jose's stay at Saint Barnabas is herself the mother of six children, four of them adopted. She and other concerned parents need the support of more hospitals and host families for the many foreign children in need of medical care.

MOST PEOPLE SPEND MORE TIME SHOPPING FOR A $50 LAMP THAN A $50,000 LOAN.

Let's say you need a new lamp.

You go to a few stores. Check out different styles. Compare all the prices. And after that, you make a decision.

A well thought-out decision.

The funny thing is, a lot of people don't take the same time and care when they shop for a home-owner loan. They go to one lender and learn about one loan. Which is why a lot of people end up paying more than they should.

The fact is, the cost of the same loan can vary greatly from lender to lender. That's why at HFC, we feel you owe it to yourself to shop around. It's the only way to be really sure you're getting the best deal. And it's the best way to really see what HFC can offer you.

Start with a little arithmetic.

First sit down with a pencil and paper and work out a rough estimate of how much equity you have in your home. Equity is the amount of money you get when you sell a home, after paying off your mortgage.

Just subtract the amount you still owe on your home (your last mortgage statement should have this information) from what you could sell it for today. Check newspaper real estate ads or ask neighbors what similar homes in the area have sold for.

The amount you get is your equity. And most home-owner loans could be as high as $50,000,* depending on your equity.

How to shop.

Now make some calls. You can check with consumer finance companies, banks, and savings and loans. Call at least three places.

And find out exactly how much of a loan you could get. How much your monthly costs would be. And what the actual cost would be.

A few pluses about an HFC Equity + Loan

Naturally, if we've been encouraging you to shop around, we must feel rather good about our HFC home-owner loan.

We do. It's called the HFC Equity + Loan.

The + is because you get the use of your money plus all the financial expertise HFC has built up for over 100 years.

Every HFC manager goes through special Equity + training to answer all your questions clearly and completely.

If an Equity + Loan is the best loan to suit your needs, you'll know it. And you'll see why so many people have made a tradition of counting on HFC.

Give us a call.

If you would like to discuss an Equity + Loan give us a call or stop in at any of our offices. Please look in The Yellow Pages to locate the office most convenient for you.

The way we figure it, the more you know, the more you'll know to come to HFC.

*In New Jersey, loans above $2,500 are secondary mortgage loans.

Opinion

Did We Wait Too Long?

Citizens of the United States — and doubtless many other countries as well — have come to expect that governmental progress comes only in small doses, and even those are often very long in coming. At the same time we in Livingston can reasonably expect to go to a Township Council meeting, present a problem, and have something done about it in short order. Perhaps being small, accessible and accountable helps to keep our municipal government working efficiently. It is unfortunate that government at higher levels, losing this accessibility and accountability, has gotten so massive that it often gets entangled in itself and its subdivisions. Livingston has seen two examples of that problem this week, plus another that has been a source of aggravation for 25 years or so.

First, there is the effort of the Township Council toward some action on housing for senior citizens. Two years ago the Council went on record in favor of getting started on multi-family housing for seniors. In general, such projects make use of federal government financial support in one form or another. This week, in explaining the need for hiring a consultant, township manager Robert H. Harp stated that "cut-backs and uncertainties in federal housing programs, and the lack of financing" have made it impossible for senior citizen housing in Livingston to go forward under a private corporation fostered by the township.

The difficulty of getting higher levels of government moving has apparently blocked one of our best routes to senior citizen housing. Had we been able to secure some federal action two years ago, economic conditions would have been suitable for the start of construction.

The second instance concerns bus transportation from two different perspectives. On the one hand, the township has finally gotten word from farther up the governmental ladder that it is time to think about bus shelters again. Action was taken by the Council this week to authorize an agreement with the state to go ahead with putting up the shelters.

At the same time, DeCamp Bus Lines has filed for permission to drop all of its service through Livingston. So it would seem that just as we have gotten the wheels of government turning on some bus shelters, the wheels of the buses are going to be halted.

There are lots of other examples, of course: our sewage treatment plant expansion wound up costing twice what we thought it would because of state delays in getting the necessary approvals. The "long term problem" award goes to Eisenhower Parkway, the major north-south corridor across this end of the county, which has been virtually talked to death. Now communities at both ends of the "road to nowhere" are screaming for completion.

What is the answer? The real answer is smaller, more accessible, more accountable government. Wishing can't make it so, and in reality we probably can't bring it about by work, either, because the existing system is too huge to be moved.

So we have to work within the system, but we're going to have to learn ways to make the system work a little faster.

A PICTURE EDITORIAL: This child's "big wheel" tricycle in the road illustrates the double responsibility of parents and of drivers. Many local businessmen have joined together to present a full page advertisement in this week's Tribune urging drivers to be extra careful on residential streets during the school vacation period. The other half of the responsibility is shared by parents, in being aware of the safety of their children and showing them safe places to play.

From the Editor's Notebook by Kit Cone

Signs of change in our community come in strange ways. This week's strange way is the emergence of a new Livingston telephone exchange: 740. When all number telephones came to town we outgrew the days when towns started with two capital letters, lost our "Livingston" identity, and became 992. More recently the 992s were used up and the new 994 numbers appeared.

Now, for the math whizzes who are into calculus, the rate of acceleration is increasing. It has not been very long since the 533 electronic exchange was added, starting with the huge Centrex system at Foster Wheeler and going on to Saint Barnabas, pay telephones and a few homes that needed "call waiting" and other electronic services that were not then available on the 992 and 994 numbers. Now, as the rate of acceleration continues to climb, New Jersey Bell has found that it can't meet the need for telephones — particularly big blocks of business telephones — with the existing numbers and the 740 exchange is the result.

Where are all these telephones going? Just look at one road in Livingston: Eisenhower Parkway. Despite the troubles with its completion that have brought it the name of The Road to Nowhere, Eisenhower Parkway is the scene of a lot of major office construction. There is a big "sister" building going up near Dorsa Avenue, adjacent to the USF&G facilities; another major office is under construction just northwest of the traffic circle; a national financial firm will have its new offices on the Foster Wheeler campus south of South Orange Avenue.

There are others, of course, such as the big new building on West Mt. Pleasant Avenue east of Okner Parkway, and still more are on the drawing boards.

These new buildings are what might be called signs of progress. First we went from a farming village to a small residential community after World War II. Then that community grew and added a small component of light industry: G-V Controls, Chatham Electronics, Microlab, Lacquerite, Standard Optical and the like. Later such firms as Sunshine Biscuit and Nabisco set up distribution centers here. In more recent years Livingston has become an office center for many major firms: Howard Savings Bank, Continental Insurance, Foster Wheeler, USF&G, Midland Ross, Trane, Newsweek and others.

As a look at the Tribune's "40 Years Ago" column will reveal, Livingston is not far removed in terms of years from that little farming and dairying village. Some of our neighboring towns were well established as commercial centers decades or even centuries before we were, largely because of the availability of transportation: Morristown, Newark, Montclair, Caldwell, etc. We have profited in many ways by the experience of other communities, and by the fact that being a relative latecomer to intense urban growth we have had some area for development.

Every now and then we see concrete signs of how well that development is going. Last week it was the crushing need to get Eisenhower Parkway's extension to the south constructed. This week it is a new telephone exchange number: not a big deal in itself, but indicative of the fruition of the many years of careful planning that have gone into the growth of our community.

Sen. Don DiFrancesco Reports From Trenton

After years of talk but little action, a reasonable solution to the state's auto insurance fiasco has been proposed by governor Thomas Kean with bipartisan support.

The proposal should provide relief for millions of reliable motorists who have been forced to pay the price — higher premiums — for the Democrats' failure to address the inequities in auto insurance rates during the eight years they controlled state government.

The reform package should stabilize or even lower rates for good drivers by charging higher premiums for motorists with poor driving records. And it should bring stability to the auto insurance industry, ending the flight of insurance companies from the state.

Under the proposal, motorists with six motor vehicle penalty points or three chargeable car accidents within a three-year period would be penalized by paying an extra fee. That money would be used to offset losses to insurance companies for insuring high-risk drivers, ending the present system in which good drivers heavily subsidize the cost of insuring bad drivers.

Many good drivers are now unable to obtain car insurance on the open market and are forced to turn to the assigned

LIVINGSTON ON LOCATION: The Livingston Public Library was the scene on Monday for the filming of a television commercial for a new product by the makers of Tylenol. The library, which was the second Livingston location in as many weeks to be used as a commercial backdrop, was scouted as a location by Livingston resident Rosalie Nusbaum, a principal of RenRose Locations, Ltd. A limited number of spaces are available on the bus and registration, which is on a first come, first served basis, is being accepted at the recreation office Mondays through Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Council Approves Evergreen Work

In a very brief action on Monday evening the Township Council gave final approval to an ordinance authorizing improvements to Evergreen Avenue. The street is to be reconstructed, with new curbing, storm drains and pavement. Only the cost of the curbing will be assessed against the adjoining property owners; the rest of the work will be handled with township funds.

There were no speakers at the public hearing, and the ordinance was passed without dissent.

Nancy Caballes operates the television camera used to record a program on non-traditional careers. Another Livingston student at Mount St. Dominic Academy, Jane DiGregorio, also took part in the program at Caldwell College.

Students Prepare Videotape On Non-Traditional Careers

Two Livingston students at Mount St. Dominic Academy are among the 18 boys and girls who took part in a telecommunications workshop offered recently at Caldwell College. The students, representing 11 Essex County high schools, prepared two half-hour videotape programs on non-traditional careers.

The young people interviewed many people before writing the scripts and making the recordings. Sr. Vivien Jennings, O.P., chairwoman of the college telecommunications department, directed the program with Christopher Stiles and Kevin McLaughlin as instructors.

The recordings show men and women in non-atypical careers: jobs which are often limited to either men or women, but which are now opening up to competent people regardless of gender.

Funds for the workshop were provided by a grant from the New Jersey Department of Education through its Division of Vocational Education and Career Exploration.

The videotapes which were produced in the program will be made available in the fall through the Essex County Educational Improvement Center in West Orange.

Nuclear Freeze

leaders of our country know that we are deeply concerned with the prospect of nuclear war.

Elizabeth Baker Is Married In Saint Philomena Church

Saint Philomena Church was the setting for the marriage of Elizabeth Anne Baker to Richard H. Clements Jr. on Saturday, July 3. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Baker of 5 Demarest Road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Clements of Cranbury.

Rev. Michael Sheehan performed the double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Hanover Manor. Vincent Stadlin played the organ and Ed and Beverly Delaney were the vocalists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white organza gown trimmed with Venise lace with cluster pearls. The gown featured bishop sleeves and a modified Queen Anne neckline. The bride wore an heirloom cathedral length veil of Brussels lace and carried a cascade of white silk roses and stephanotis with pink rosebuds and baby tiger lilies.

Melissa McManus of Livingston served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Kim Dorian of New York City, Michelle Raymond of Hightstown and Mary Beth Clements of Cranbury. The honor attendant wore a dusty rose ribboned silk gown and the bridesmaids wore similar gowns in pale dusty pink. They carried old fashioned nosegays of pink silk roses, daisies, zinnias, baby tiger lilies and baby's breath.

The best man was Mark Clements of Cranbury. Brian Baker of Wyckoff, Brian Clements of Cranbury, and John Kluxen of East Windsor served as ushers while Scott Clements of Cranbury served as junior usher.

A 1976 graduate of Livingston High School, the bride was graduated from Trenton State College in 1980 and is studying towards a master's degree in speech pathology at Trenton State.

Her husband, a 1975 graduate of Hightstown High School, received a B.S. degree in chemical engineering from the University of Maryland at College Park in 1981. He is employed at the Linde Division of Union Carbide.

Following a honeymoon trip to Nassau, the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Enfield, Connecticut.

Young Armen Baboosian illustrates the size of a lily grown by his father, already more than seven feet high and still growing. The lily is only a small part of the family's extensive flower and vegetable gardens.

Decorating the Neighborhood Through His Flower Gardens

Hamazap Baboosian has created an attractive corner of the world in his yard at 65 Oakwood Avenue, trying to bring a touch of beauty and peace to a suburban environment that is often chaotic. His success is reflected not only in the flowers that flourish everywhere around his home, but also in his love for making things grow.

One of the principal attractions of Mr. Baboosian's garden this week is a lily that has passed the seven foot mark and is still growing. He estimates that the plant, which might normally be expected to be a foot or two high, will be eight feet high when it has reached its full growth in a few more weeks.

In the same way that Mr. Baboosian extends an enthusiastic personal welcome to visitors to his home, his work to create attractive plantings along the driveway and walkways conveys an invitation. He has arranged extensive arrays of colorful flowers in his effort to spread beauty, and added a practical touch with a big vegetable garden.

Mr. Baboosian has built an ornamental fountain near the front door, with a small pump to recycle the water, and the back yard also has decorative plantings.

The vegetable garden includes cherry tomato plants that Mr. Baboosian expects will be so high that a stepladder will be needed for the harvest. In keeping with the appearance of the whole yard, the tomatoes are lined up in neat rows, soaking up the sunshine.

Living on a dead-end street adjacent to dense woods, Mr. Baboosian had been concerned about the effect of gypsy moths on the forest and on his gardening efforts. Looking up at the thick green foliage all around him, the hearty Armenian said that he felt the aerial spraying with bacillus thuringiensis had been a great help. These trees, he said, haven't looked so good in years.

"The newspapers are full of reports of thieves and fighting," Mr. Baboosian said by way of explaining all the hard work that goes into his horticulture. "I believe it is very important for the great majority of us to try to create a sense of beauty in our world. We must realize that it is only a small minority who try to spoil the dignity and enjoyment of the rest."

An Act of Caring

Dear Mr. Cone:
The fact that the graduating class of 1982 chose to leave a scholarship to Livingston High School in Stephen's memory has touched us deeply.

We realize that there is much time, energy and devotion involved in this endeavor. To be loved and remembered in such a way is a tribute to a spirit that will never be forgotten.

George and Nancy Myron
61 Irving Avenue
Livingston
Editor's Note: The Livingston High School graduating class of 1982 made a $1,000 donation to each of two scholarship funds instead of purchasing a piece of equipment for the school as is traditionally done.

The above letter refers to the donation made to the Stephen Myron Scholarship Fund which will be awarded annually to a student planning to study inhalation therapy or an allied health field.

In addition to books, the Livingston Library lends engravers which can be used to mark valuable possessions such as cameras, tools, typewriters, television sets and stereo equipment to make them less attractive to thieves. The service is free.

Important Events

Dear Mr. Cone:

This is a reply to a recent letter by Todd J. Gillman of Livingston. Mr. Gillman wrote expressing his view of how holidays should be celebrated on their proper calendar dates.

Mr. Gillman, I definitely admire your thinking and fervent enthusiasm for this concept; for the most part I am in support of it. I do, however, feel obligated to call something of great importance to your attention.

The "apathetic hordes" of which you speak in your letter, as well as the people in congress, the calendar makers, and even you and I to some extent possess a common flaw: we, as humans, are all creatures of convenience.

Practically everything we see around us today is designed with the idea of convenience in mind. It could be said that this has become a dependence, and that this dependence upon convenience has become a feature of the celebration of said holidays. This is to say, if it would be less imposing upon the activities of the community to celebrate a few days before or after the actual date, then so shall it be.

Now, I personally don't see the convenience of having celebrated the fourth of July on the fifth this year, but I do agree that this had caused quite some loss of respect for the importance of the event. As it is now, it is very difficult for most people to comprehend what life today would have been like had our forefathers not set forth and declared our independence.

The point I want to make is this: People will not change. As long as there is an easier way to do something — be it work, play, or celebrating holidays, the hordes will go for it. Additionally, you may or may not be interested to know that I, too, celebrated the fourth on the fourth, but, be that as it may, people such as ourselves are a very rare breed.

In closing, I leave the following morsel of wisdom to those who have taken the time to read, members and non-members of the apathetic hordes alike: "He who becomes a slave to convenience soon loses his respect for those things which deserve it most." Think about it.

Third Grade Boys

The weather was great this past week and the third grade boys enjoyed many activities at the center. Some of the favorites of the week were newcombe, dodgeball, crab soccer and drama. The boys showed an amazing amount of knowledge in the trivia contest.

4th & 5th Grade Girls

Despite the heat the girls were involved in many sports activities such as kickball, dodgeball, and parachute games. The girls made masks out of wire hangers in arts and crafts. Many enjoyed a trip to the Meadowlands during the week. The racetrack with all the horses was a favorite of the girls. They are all looking forward to this week's activities and a clown show on Friday.

4th & 5th Grade Boys

The boys played games such as football, bombardment and kickball. The Meadowlands trip was a highlight of the week. Louis Victor, Joey Lonni, Michael Lampe and Marc Abbate led their team to victory in newcombe. In football Ashish Patel, Michael Newman and David Renner all played well for their team. Sean Zenske, John Kaufman and Billy Friedman were successful in the Monopoly contest.

opponent in straight sets in a very well played match.

In the 14 and under age group singles Lauren Zuker lost 2-6, 1-6 and Mindy Berg and Jenny Orband teamed up to take a 6-1, 6-0 win for Livingston. Playing in the 14 and under doubles were Deven Parekh and Mark Shim who lost their match. Jane Fordyce and Neil Gross played a tough match in the afternoon heat, going down in three sets, 0-6, 6-4, 4-6.

Coaching the Livingston suburban youth team are Anne Stewart and Elliot Lovi, who see much potential in their young people and look forward to the remainder of the season.

The next match will be on Friday, July 16, against Cedar Grove at the Livingston Memorial Courts.

State Inspection Station To Be Closed on Saturdays

The Livingston automobile inspection station, together with others in the state, has been ordered closed on Saturdays because of what were described as "budgetary problems and the shortage of personnel."

To compensate for the end of Saturday operations, the Livingston inspection station now opens at 7 a.m., an hour earlier than previously. This pattern will be followed at most inspection stations around the state, although those in Atlantic City, Millville and Washington will continue to open at 8 and will close an hour later than previously, at 6 p.m.

Director Clifford W. Snedeker of the state Division of Motor Vehicles also noted that evening hours at three northern New Jersey locations will be increased. The Newark inspection station will be open 5 to 8 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday. At Paramus, the station will be open the same hours on Tuesday and Thursday, and at Wayne from 5 to 8 on Monday and Wednesday.

To the Editor:

The Country Fair

Dear Mr. Cone:

Do the thoughts of a large friendly family picnic bring a warm glow to your heart? You would have the same feeling at our Fair. It was held on July 5th but the July 4th feeling was there. This was shown by both the decorations and in the "independence" the chairman allowed all of her workers.

The Fair always goes like clockwork (especially if the Weather Man is good to us) because the chairman has put the last six months in working at home and on the phone. The chairmen of the different tables are usually the same ones who know exactly what to do. They and their helpers work all day, don't have time to look around at the other tables, barely take time out for a hot dog and coffee or lemonade and delicious home made cookies, put away left over articles, count the money with high hopes and go home — tired but happy. They love it and wouldn't want to be deprived of all that work the next year. Their enthusiasm is "catching" too!

A friend of mine, hugging me as she passed by, said: "Oh! I wouldn't miss this for all the world. It is so much fun seeing all my friends at one time." That prompted me to look around and notice a group under the cherry tree — smiling and talking, a group there in earnest discussion, two or three showing each other the "treasures" they had bought, others waiting while the hot dogs cooked over the coals and some just sitting and "relishing" the home-like atmosphere and friends.

Do you know what makes all this possible too? The fact that people (both members and non-members) bring things in to sell, come out to buy things that others brought out, made things for the Bake table and then go home to put the date down on next year's calendar.

I always wondered why our Herb table was so popular. This year I learned why. It is because our Herb chairman has a "following." People come from all over just to buy the things grown in our herb garden, the home made herb vinegars, the various "dips," plants, bags of scented rose leaves, etc. So, next year, come out to see our pretty garden with the sun dial. However, forget the time and relax while browsing around the Fair and visiting with one another. But don't forget to return in the fall for a tour of the Force Home, the focal point of our Livingston Historical Society.

Babe Ruth League

Eastern All-Stars
The Livingston Babe Ruth League Eastern All-Stars opened the defense of their District 8 Championship on Saturday with a 5-1 victory over the Bi-County "A" Team from Mendham and Chester.

Glenn Holliday, pitching the entire game for Livingston, allowed only six hits, walked three and struck out ten.

Bi-County picked up an unearned run in the top of the first inning on an error and two singles, but the budding rally was cut off when Paul DeFalco made a super throw from right field to catch a runner trying to go from first to third on the hit. Livingston came back with two runs in the bottom of the first. Brian Bushwell led off with a single and stole second. Paul Modugno singled to right to drive in Bushwell. Marty Durkin reached first on an error by the third baseman, then stole second and continued to third on an overthrow. He scored on Paul Kim's ground out.

Two more runs came across for Livingston in the second inning, as Scott Testa walked. Paul DeFalco reached base on an error, and Jeff Mayerson singled up the middle to drive both runners in.

Livingston's final tally came in the sixth when Durkin walked and stole second, and scored on Scott McKay's hit to left.

Modugno led the Livingston attack with two hits, while Bushwell, McKay, Testa, Dan Friedman and Mayerson had one each.

The Livingston team is scheduled to meet Hanover, the other undefeated team in the tournament, as the Tribune goes to press. A Livingston win in that game would put the team in the championship game at 8:15 on Friday, July 16.

Prep League

The Livingston Prep League All-Stars defeated Bernards Township 5-2 in a tournament game on Tuesday. The Livingston team had a fine defensive game in support of the excellent pitching of Dennis Nicholls, who kept the Bernards hitters off stride by moving the ball around and keeping it low.

Nicholls scattered five hits, struck out two, and walked three. He would have had a shutout except for an error in the last of the seventh inning.

Scott Klein had a triple and double, scoring once, and three RBIs. Mark Lapides had two singles, scored twice, and had two RBIs. Joe Valentine doubled and scored once, and Mark Dispo pitched well the first three innings, but was a victim of the heat in the fifth. Bob Matthews came in to relieve, and held the 3-2 score until the seventh, when Morristown got four more runs on some timely hitting and some errors in the field.

Scott Klein had a perfect three for three, as he added two other singles, with Mark Dispo also adding a single. Livingston left eight runners stranded.

Anthony Lauro had five assists at second base, while Mark Lapides, Scott Klein and Mark Dispo had two assists each. Mike Clark picked off a runner at third.

Lose to Bernards
The loss put Livingston into another game with Bernards, and the 11-9 loss there put Livingston out of the tournament.

The Livingston team started well, building a 4-2 lead on two runs in the second and third innings. In the second inning, Tom Garzon doubled, Chris Kozcur singled, Jerry Freda drove in a run with a single, and Dennis Nicholls singled Kozcur home. In the third, Mark Lapides and Scott Klein both tripled, and Mark Dispo's infield out brought Klein home.

In the top of the fifth the Stars moved their lead to 8-2 on walks to Joe Valentine, Mark Lapides, Scott Klein and Mike Clark, a hit batter's base for Tom Garzon, an error on Chris Kozcur's grounder and a walk to Jerry Freda.

In the last of the fifth, however, Bernards scored nine times to take an 11-8 lead. Dennis Nicholls started the game, but was struggling. He went as far as he could into the fifth, and was relieved by Pat Burke. Burke gave it his best effort, but needed help from Tom Garzon, who did a nice job finishing up.

In the seventh inning Mike Clark singled, stole second, and scored on Tom Garzon's single to close out the scoring. Dennis Nicholls had five assists. Scott Klein had a super series, going seven for nine, with four extra-base hits and five RBIs. Also contributing to their team were Ken Duca and Adam Zocks.

Scott Klein made some super plays at shortstop. Anthony Lauro had two assists at second base, and Jim Capacci made three putouts in center field.

Lose to Morristown
The win over Bernards put Livingston in the winners' bracket of the double-elimination tournament to play Morristown, but there the local All-Stars came out on the short end of a 7-2 score.

The Livingston All-Stars lost to Morristown as a result of heat, humidity and a curveball pitcher. Morristown scored two in the fourth inning, and the Livingston All-Stars came right back in the home half of the fourth with two runs. Joe Valentine had a triple to right, Mark Lapides doubled to right center, and Scott Klein had a triple to left field.

Morristown scored one in the fifth to take a 3-2 lead. Mark

Former Resident Dies in Houston

Donald J. Fitzmaurice Jr., 30, of Houston, Texas, died Monday, July 5, after being hospitalized for injuries suffered in an automobile accident on June 26 in Houston. A Mass was offered Saturday in South Orange.

Born in Orange, Mr. Fitzmaurice had lived in Livingston and Maplewood before moving to Houston three years ago.

He was a purchasing agent and chief expediter with Cross and Co., a ship outfitting company in Houston. A 1974 graduate of Kings College in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, Mr. Fitzmaurice was captain of the Old Boys Rugby Team of Houston, the reigning champion of the Southeastern International Rugby Conference.

Surviving are his parents, Donald and Margaret; three brothers, Michael, Timothy and Paul; two sisters, Kathryn and Patricia and his grandfather, Elmer Thornton.

The family has requested that memorial contributions be made to the Karen Anne Quinlan Center of Hope in Newton.

DONALD A. RIKER, at right, receives a scholarship award from dean Patrick Ippolito of Kean College; both are Livingston residents. The award was made in recognition of Riker's work with handicapped and disabled people at Kean, where he is preparing to be a teacher of the handicapped.

Excerpts From 40 Years Ago

The July 16, 1942, issue of the West Essex Tribune featured the report of a plan to create a series of neighborhood parks from township and donated land. Frank Schmitt of the Planning Board noted that the need for the additional local recreational facilities were brought on by war-time shortages of gasoline and rubber. One of Bill Klaber's editorials urged that the township move quickly to enact the proposal.

Another front page story noted that a crew of ten trucks and 32 volunteers was overwhelmed during the previous Sunday's salvage drive, which had been held to raise money for an auxiliary pumper for the Fire Department. Over $217 was raised by collecting 3,740 pounds of rubber, 830 pounds of rags, 17,080 pounds of newspapers, 27,650 pounds of iron, seven cars and a large iron water tank from the Kean estate, which alone netted $30.

A third front page story announced that committeeman William J. Glossner would not seek reelection due to the demands of his job. Glossner was employed by AT&T Long Lines in communications and the war had caused him to work as much as 60 hours overtime in a week. In another editorial, Bill Klaber regretted the loss of an outstanding committeeman; but agreed that the war effort must come first.

Forty years ago this week, William H. Conover, cashier of the Livingston National Bank, announced that the bank had purchased the building in which it was located at Livingston Center from Freeman Harrison. (That building is now the offices of Gail Lowenstein, Realtor.)

The West Essex Committee on Child Care reported that in Livingston 83 working mothers had 14 preschool children, 72 elementary school children and 30 junior high school children who needed some kind of care during the day. The group, made up of welfare agencies of the West Essex communities, outlined a program of supplemental day care for preschoolers, supplemental afternoon care for older children and an information bureau for working mothers to be operated by the West Essex Social Service.

Three children were severely injured in the township 40 years ago this week. Nine year old Patricia McAvoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. McAvoy of 19 Crestview Hill Road, and Barbara Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan also of Crestview Hill Road, were badly cut while wading in Canoe Brook to the rear of the Youngjohn home on East Mt. Pleasant Avenue.

Ten year old William Bolton of Berkeley Place had been helping his older brother Albert, who was employed haying at the farm of Pell Collins on South Livingston Avenue, when he was accidentally hit in the head with the pitchfork. One of the lines pierced his skull and some signs of paralysis were evident.

The featured movies 40 years ago were "Take A Letter Darling" with Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray and "Tortilla Flats" starring Hedy Lamarr and Spencer Tracy.

No Change in Operating Hours: VFW Paper Drive Always Open

Following the installation of a sign at the municipal recycling center adjacent to the VFW Hall this week, VFW paper drive chairman Harold H. Smith has issued a statement on the hours for newspaper collections.

Smith said that there is some confusion about the relationship between the glass drive run by Livingston Reclamation, Inc., and the paper drive run by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The VFW permits the use of its facilities for the Livingston Reclamation, Inc., glass collections, which are held only on Saturdays from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The operating hours are limited by the need for experienced personnel to operate the recycling center, handling the material, sorting the glass, inspecting for foreign matter such as neck rings, and crushing the scrap.

In addition, the Veterans of Foreign Wars conduct their own newspaper drive at the same site. The newspaper operation is a "leave it yourself" collection, with no special personnel needed.

There has not been any change in the operating hours of either the glass or newspaper recycling operations, but the new sign has brought increased interest in the possibility of recycling.

Smith explained that "the VFW paper truck, located at the rear of the VFW building at 95 West Mt. Pleasant Avenue, is open from dawn to dusk, seven days a week." Paper may be left there any day, and the operating hours are not limited to Saturday mornings.

Smith said that the VFW newspaper recycling center "is never closed for vacations, inclement weather or holidays."

"Papers can be left at any time," Smith concluded, "but must be tied. No loose papers, magazines or telephone books will be accepted."

Senior Office Grant Is Sought

Action was taken by the Township Council on Monday night to seek renewal of a grant of $8,000 from the Essex County Division on Aging. The funds would be used to finance the senior citizen coordinator's office.

In moving the resolution, Council member Doris L. Beck said that the senior citizen coordinator's office has been working very well since its inception two years ago. The office serves as a clearinghouse for a great many activities for seniors, and works closely with the Advisory Council on Senior Citizens.

The action taken by the Township Council on Monday night authorizes the filing of a request for the funds for another year.

Carteret Reports Period of Growth

Despite a very difficult period for many savings and loan associations, chairman Robert B. O'Brien Jr. reported this week that the first half of this year was "a period of sustained growth" for Carteret Savings and Loan Association. Total deposits stood at $1.65 billion as of June 30, an increase of $139 million since December.

O'Brien said that several services have proven to be popular with savers and borrowers, including tax-exempt IRA and Keogh retirement accounts, which have grown more than $25 million since January, and adjustable rate mortgages, of which Carteret originated more than $43.6 million in the first half of the year.

Carteret has an equity interest in INVEST, offering brokerage services in investment advice and stock and bond transactions. This new service will be offered at several Carteret branches by autumn.

Carteret has 45 offices in New Jersey, including two in Livingston: in the ShopRite supermarket at Northfield Center, and at East Northfield Road and Herbert Terrace.

Essex County has the largest population of any county in the state: 850,451 people were counted in the 1980 census.

Baker Max Scheuerer Creates Mammoth Cake

Livingston baker Max Scheuerer, owner of the Village Bakery, recently baked and decorated an eight foot long cake as part of the 25th anniversary of the Westinghouse Elevator Company in Randolph. Scheuerer was commissioned by the company to create a replica of its facilities on Sussex Turnpike.

The completed cake included edible replicas of the factory, test tower, offices, and even the guard house and plantings. Scheuerer put 1,000 eggs, 100 pounds of sugar, 70 pounds of flour, and 85 pounds of lemon into his masterpiece. The cake was so big, weighing a total of about 500 pounds, that it had to be made in stages. The cake itself was baked in Scheuerer's ovens in the Village Bakery at 20 Plaza Place, and was then transported to the Westinghouse offices in Randolph where it was assembled and decorated on an oversize table. The process took 16 hours of work.

Scheuerer's cake served as the principal attraction and the refreshments for the 25th anniversary party.

Scheuerer has operated the Village Bakery since 1967. Before coming to the United States he earned a master's degree in cake bakery in Munich, Germany, and worked as a baker in Austria, Switzerland and New York.

Get Report On Israel

Alan K. Bloom, general chairman of Metropolitan New Jersey State of Israel Bonds, led a Livingston delegation at a recent meeting to hear a report by Itzhack I. Rager. Rager, president of the Israel Bond organization, had just returned from a fact-finding mission to Lebanon and Israel.

Also at the report session from Livingston were Herbert Fisher, George Gering and Sy Levin.

Rager noted that because of the combat conditions Israel's industrial production has been severely curtailed in recent weeks. He called on Israel Bond leaders to develop Israel's industry through an intensive campaign for additional sales of Israel Bonds.

"With our borders and our people secure," Rager stated, "we hope to be able to restore our own economic productivity and to work with our neighbors toward peace in the Middle East."

Smoking is hazardous to your health—and the health of everyone around you. That's why Blue Cross and Blue Shield are offering a free Stop-Smoking program to enrolled groups. Based on the American Cancer Society program, it's an effective method of helping cigarette smokers kick the habit for good.

Which means drastically reducing their chances of developing heart disease, stroke, cancer of the lung, larynx, esophagus, mouth and bladder—not to mention emphysema and chronic bronchitis. And sharply increasing their chances for a longer, more productive, life. In fact, after ten years, death rates of ex-smokers from all causes are almost the same as those for people who never smoked.

Let us put our Stop-Smoking program to work at your place of business if you're enrolled with Blue Cross and Blue Shield. We'll "thank you for not smoking." And so will everyone else! For details, contact Anne Morham at (201) 456-2507. Or write her at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey, 33 Washington Street, Newark, N.J. 07012.

Mother's Reply

Dear Sir:

I want to tell you a story the incident outside Bottle King that you wrote in the paper last week. There are a few facts that don't ring quite true. In the first place up to this date Friday 9th there has been no summons to appear in court on any date.

Our son is being operated on to have pins put into a broken thigh, a five hour operation next Thursday. He will be in a body cast for months and as regard to wanting to pull a weapon on anybody he has a tough time holding a pen.

He is handicapped and as regard to running away he has only learned to walk the last year. Five years ago he came home with the loss of feeling, numbness of arms from elbows down to finger tips and legs down from knees to feet the is back to wrists and ankles but feet and hands no. He couldn't defend himself if he tried.

We have a five year medical report from Columbia Presbyterian (sic) Hospital to prove this. He may never work again. He was wrong in what he did but did the two healthy cops beat a handicapped guy that couldn't even sober defend himself. I would like to know. He has enough to go through life with without people not getting facts straight on a story.

Editor's Note: The information indicating that David Wood was charged with robbery on July 3 and is due to be heard in Livingston Municipal Court on July 22 was obtained from the Municipal Court docket which is public record.

Mrs. Wood's letter to the editor was handwritten; the editor has attempted to provide conventional punctuation where ever possible.

Local Girls Are Victims of Crime

Two Livingston teenagers have reported that they were robbed and assaulted by two teenage girls at 10 p.m. on Thursday, July 8.

The Livingston girls were walking along East Northfield Road, near Northfield Court, when a car pulled over and two girls, one carrying a baseball bat, got out. One of the local girls was struck along the side of her head by the bat; however, she did not seem to be seriously injured. A pocketbook belonging to the other Livingston teen was also taken.

The Livingston girls provided good descriptions of the perpetrators and their car and license plate number to police officers, who are confident of an early arrest.

Esposito-Matthews Nuptials Held In St. Philomena Church

Marilyn A. Esposito, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Esposito of Livingston, was married in St. Philomena Church on July 3 to Francis J. Matthews Jr. of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Matthews Sr. of Bryn Mawr.

The ceremony, which was performed by Fr. Robert Lorenzo, was followed by a reception in the Summit Suburban Hotel in Summit.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza and Alencon lace gown with a fitted bodice of Alencon lace and a Queen Anne neckline. The gown featured long fitted sleeves of Alencon lace and an empire skirt with scattered appliques of the same lace ending in a chapel length train. She wore a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls, a finger tip veil with scattered appliques of Alencon lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white and pink roses, white mini-carnations and baby's breath.

Sally Vanacore Lewis of Hopatcong served as matron of honor and Marjorie Olmstead of Berkeley, California, formerly of Livingston, was the bridesmaid.

Both attendants wore blue cotton gowns with fitted bodices and A-line skirts with flounces at the hemlines. The gowns, which had tiny pale blue roses on a dark blue background, featured oval necklines with tiny ruffled trim and short puffed sleeves.

Senior Office Has Publications

A number of publications of interest to older adults are available at the senior citizen coordinator's office in Monmouth Court Community Center as well as at the library.

For further information about publications and services for older adults, call the senior citizen coordinator's office weekdays mornings at 992-3083.

The best man was James Troyan of Havertown, Pennsylvania. Stephen Esposito of Lafayette and Mark Esposito of Livingston, both brothers of the bride, served as ushers along with Christopher Matthews of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of St. Philomena Academy in Livingston, Mt. St. Dominic Academy in Caldwell and Bethany College in West Virginia.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the Haverford School of Haverford, Pennsylvania and Bethany College, is employed by American Industrial Hose Company in Pennsylvania.

Following a honeymoon trip to San Francisco and Lake Tahoe, California, the couple plan to reside in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania.
